About IBT Consulting

Not Just Another Broker—Your Strategic Benefits Partner.

Affordable. Transparent. Built Around You.

Tammera Hollerich, a trusted advisor in employee benefits, leads IBT Consulting with a clear mission: to provide tailored, transparent, and people-first insurance strategies in an increasingly complex healthcare landscape. With a deep commitment to client service and decades of industry insight, Tammera and her team at IBT Consulting prioritize affordable, high-quality care that meets the unique needs of both employers and employees. By combining expert guidance with personalized support, IBT Consulting delivers benefits solutions that protect your team, control costs, and align with your company's long-term goals—making them the right partner when your business needs more than just a broker.

Why You Should Choose IBT Consulting

At IBT Consulting, we do more than design employee benefits—we redefine them. Led by Tammera Hollerich, our team brings decades of expertise and a people-first approach to an industry too often driven by profits over people. We understand the pressure employers face to provide affordable, high-quality healthcare in a system plagued by rising costs and increasing complexity. That's why we craft custom strategies tailored to your organization's unique goals, ensuring your employees receive meaningful coverage they can actually afford to use. As a concierge-style firm, we pride ourselves on blending high-tech efficiency with high-touch service, guiding both employers and employees through every stage of the benefits journey. When you work with IBT Consulting, you're not just hiring a broker—you're gaining a strategic partner who is invested in your success, committed to transparency, and focused on protecting what matters most: your people.

Our Services
